

FCE I · UNIT 1 · GRAMMAR P12 · TUESDAY 29 SEPTEMBER

Revision: present perfect simple and continuous

About 15 minutes. Do it in pencil, then check with your teacher.

Simple = the result, or how many: I've read three books.

Continuous = the activity, or how long: I've been reading all day.

Stative verbs (have, know, be, like) are never continuous. gone = he is there now; been = he went and came back.

1 Circle the correct option.

1. Nuria is tired because she (has studied / has been studying) all afternoon.
2. I (have read / have been reading) three books this month.
3. How long (have you known / have you been knowing) Pablo?
4. The streets are wet. It (has rained / has been raining) all morning.
5. Sorry, I (haven't finished / haven't been finishing) the report yet.
6. This is the first time I (have visited / have been visiting) Alicante.
7. Oh no! Someone (has broken / has been breaking) my phone.
8. The kitchen is so hot because I (have cooked / have been cooking) paella all morning.

2 Complete with the present perfect, simple or continuous.

1. _____ you ever _____ (eat) horchata with fartons?
2. Where's Carlos? He _____ (wait) outside since half past four.
3. I _____ (not finish) the book, so don't tell me the ending!
4. How long _____ they _____ (learn) English?
5. She _____ (lose) her keys, so she can't get in.
6. I _____ (know) Irene since primary school.

3 Add the adverb in brackets in the best place. Write the new sentence.

1. She hasn't replied to my message. (yet)

2. I haven't bought the tickets. (still)

3. I've seen this film. (already)

4. It's the best paella I've eaten. (ever)

5. I've been so tired. (lately)

6. The bus has arrived. (just)

4 Each sentence has one mistake. Write it correctly.

1. I live in Valencia since 2019.

2. She has gone to Rome three times.

3. I have seen him yesterday.

4. How long are you studying English?

5. I have been knowing her for years.

5 Your turn. Write two true sentences.

1. Something you have never done but would like to do.

2. Something you have been doing more than usual recently.
