Get your marked Unit 1 writing script back out. For each category below: if the teacher marked this kind of mistake in your writing, copy your sentence, fix it, then write ONE new sentence of your own using the same fix. If you didn't make this mistake, write "n/a" and move on — you don't need to invent an error you didn't make.

1. Register — keeping it informal

What I wrote (or "n/a"):

Fixed version:

My own new sentence, same fix:

Reminder: contractions, everyday connectors (anyway, so), friendly opener/closer, no text-speak.

2. Present perfect vs past simple

What I wrote (or "n/a"):

Fixed version:

My own new sentence, same fix:

Reminder: present perfect = connects the past to now, no finished time given. Past simple = needs a finished time reference.

3. Phrasal verbs

What I wrote (or "n/a"):

Fixed version:

My own new sentence, same fix:

Reminder: gone off, cheer up, chill out, hit it off, fall out, get down, stand up — check the meaning matches, not just the words.

4. Did I answer every question?

Question(s) from the email I didn't fully answer (or "n/a, I answered them all"):

One or two extra sentences that would answer it properly:

5. Word count

My word count was: _____ (target: 140–190)

If I was outside the range, what would I add or cut?

6. Spelling and basic accuracy

One spelling/accuracy mistake I made (or "n/a"):

Correct form:

My two priorities for next time
