Get your marked Unit 2 essay back out. For each category below: if the teacher marked this kind of mistake in your writing, copy your sentence, fix it, then write ONE new sentence of your own using the same fix. If you didn't make this mistake, write "n/a" and move on — you don't need to invent an error you didn't make.

1. Register — keeping it formal enough

What I wrote (or "n/a"):

Fixed version:

My own new sentence, same fix:

Reminder: use In my view / Personally / To sum up; avoid contractions, "like" and text-speak in an opinion essay.

2. used to / would / past simple

What I wrote (or "n/a"):

Fixed version:

My own new sentence, same fix:

Reminder: would only for repeated actions, never states or single events. used to works for both states and habits.

3. Linking words & topic sentences

What I wrote (or "n/a"):

Fixed version:

My own new sentence, same fix:

Reminder: start each paragraph with a topic sentence; use the right connector (Firstly.../Apart from that.../In addition.../To sum up...) for the right job.

4. Did I cover all three notes points?

Point(s) from the task I didn't fully cover (or "n/a, I covered them all"):

One or two extra sentences that would cover it properly:

5. Word count

My word count was: _____ (target: 140–190)

If I was outside the range, what would I add or cut?

6. Spelling and basic accuracy

One spelling/accuracy mistake I made (or "n/a"):

Correct form:
