

First Day

Some of you already know each other. By the end of today I will know all five of you, and you will know things about each other that you did not know this morning.

TASK 1 Tell me a bit about you answer for yourself, alone

A few words is enough here. You are going to ask other people these same questions in a minute, so answer honestly, not cleverly. The long version comes later.

	QUESTION	MY ANSWER
1	What do people call you?
2	Which part of Valencia do you live in, and what is it like?
3	What is the first thing you do when you get home?
4	What series or music are you into at the moment?
5	What do you do that has nothing to do with school?
6	What food would you never turn down?
7	Which subject do you actually enjoy, not just pass?
8	Where would you take a visitor who had one day in Valencia?
9	Which country would you most like to live in for a year?
10	What are you better at than most people?
11	What job could you imagine yourself doing at thirty?
12	How would your closest friend describe you? Two words.

TASK 2 Now find your people stand up and ask

Same twelve questions, different people. Ask your classmates the questions from page 1. When somebody gives an answer close to yours, write their name and what they said. You need at least one name from every person in the room, and every answer you write down must come with a follow-up question you asked.

	QUESTION	WHO IS LIKE ME?	WHAT THEY SAID
1	What people call them
2	Part of Valencia
3	First thing at home
4	Series or music
5	Nothing to do with school
6	Food they never turn down
7	Subject they enjoy
8	Where to take a visitor
9	Country to live in
10	Better at than most
11	Job at thirty
12	Two words

USE THESE, NOT "ME TOO"

When you agree: So do I. · Neither do I. · Same here. · I know exactly what you mean.

When you do not, politely: Really? I'd rather _____. · I'm not sure I agree, actually. · It depends what you mean by _____.

To keep them talking, which is the whole point: What made you choose that? · How long have you been doing that? · Whereabouts exactly? · Would you do it again?

TASK 3 Build your six lines use your answers from page 1

These are not six easy sentences. Each one has a structure in it that B2 asks for, so finish the line the way it starts.

WRITE THEM OUT IN FULL

1. My name is _____ and the people who know me best call me _____.
2. I live in _____, which _____.
3. I have been studying English for _____, and what I still find hardest is _____.
4. At the moment I am _____, although I usually _____.
5. If I could _____, I would _____.
6. I did not know until today that _____ and I both _____.

TASK 4 Practise, then stand up partner first, class second

Step 1. Say your six lines to the person next to you. They tell you one thing to improve.

Step 2. Say them again to the class, standing. About ninety seconds. You may hold the paper, but you may not read it word for word, and you must look up at least three times.

TASK 5 While you listen everybody has a job

You are not waiting for your turn. For every classmate, write one thing you learned and one question you will ask them when they finish. "Why?" does not count.

CLASSMATE	ONE THING I LEARNED	MY QUESTION FOR THEM

TASK 6 Common ground all of you, together

As a class, find three things that are true for every single person in this room, including your teacher. Obvious ones are rejected: not "we all study English", not "we all live in Spain". Each one must be written as a full sentence beginning All of us, None of us or Every one of us. You have six minutes and you must all agree out loud.

WRITE THE FULL SENTENCE
1
2
3

TASK 7 The person most like me one sentence

Look back at page 2. Who did you match with most often? Write it out in full, and give a reason that is not just the match itself.

1. I have the most in common with _____, because we both _____.

BEFORE YOU LEAVE

Write one thing you want to be able to do in English by December that you cannot do today. Be specific: "speak better" is not an answer. Keep this booklet, we will look at it again then.

The Level Ladder

Six parts, one for each unit of the book we are about to start. Climb as high as you can.

BEFORE YOU START

This is not an exam and it does not go on any report. It covers the whole year, so most of it is material we have not taught yet. Nobody is expected to finish, and getting a question wrong today just tells me where to spend our time. Guessing is fine, leaving it blank is fine too.
